Capture your individuality

“We wanted our home to be as unique as us”

Decking that says more about you

Your home has a room you hardly ever use. One in which you won't be bothered by the television, or be reminded that there is tidying up to do. A room in which you can entertain your friends, spend time with your family or take five minutes at the end of the day to take time for yourself as you relax and unwind. That room is your garden and it's a place that can say just as much about you as your home does – as long as you use the right decking.

The extensive range of Timeless Timber products give you more scope to create the kind of surroundings you really want, while letting you explore your individuality building the kind of garden you feel more relaxed in.

A place where you can do more than you ever thought possible. More welcoming and altogether more comfortable than a patio, your garden is where your home ends and your imagination takes hold. Somewhere you can work or rest. Somewhere to entertain friends. Or simply somewhere to entertain your innermost thoughts. Timeless Timber products are guaranteed for as long as twenty years despite the great British weather.

We believe that your creativity shouldn't be hampered by practicalities. That's our job.

So while you're picturing what your garden could look like with pathways, walkways and raised decks, we make sure that whatever design you create, quality and safety will not be compromised.

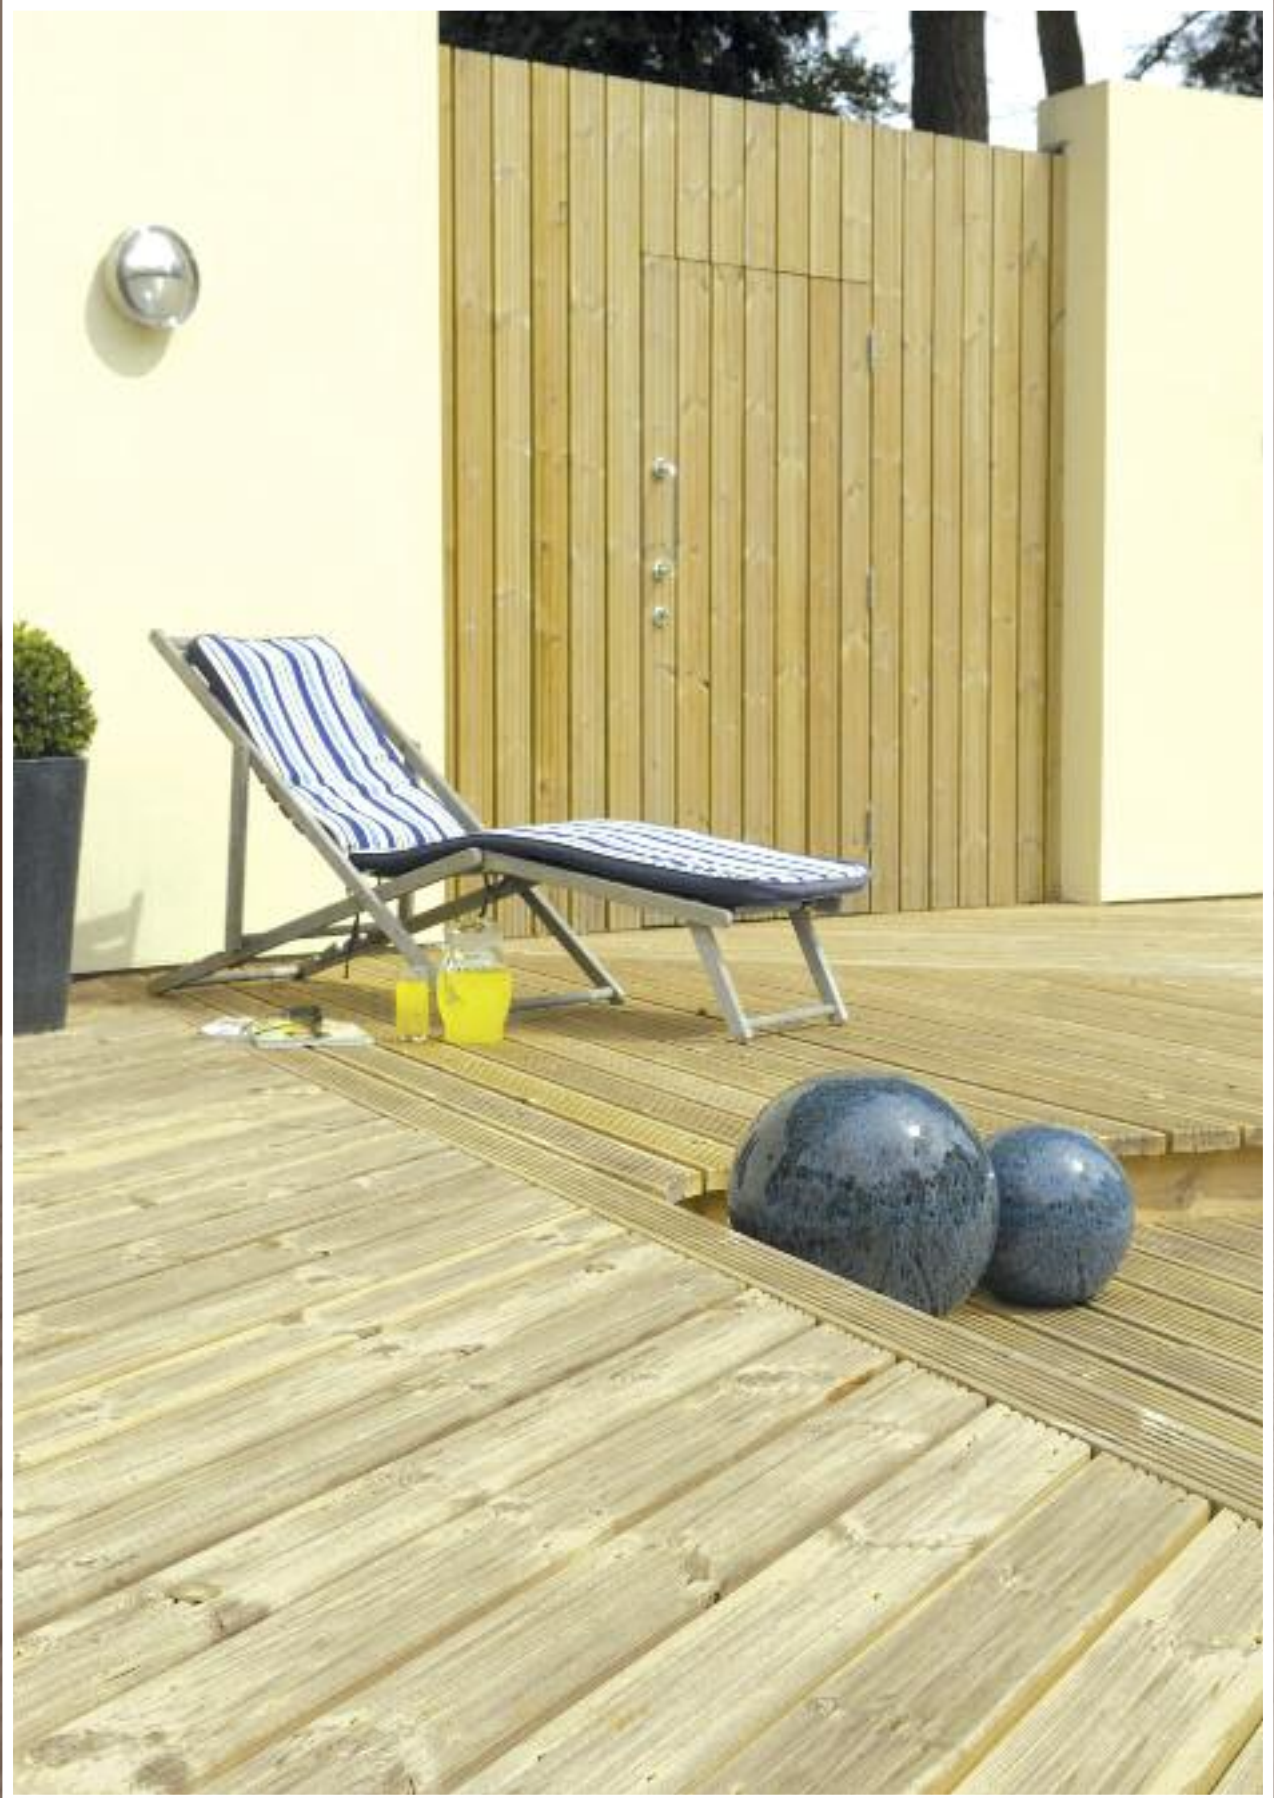

We are members of the Timber Decking Association which means that all of our products carry the 'DECKMARK' certified stamp. It's your guarantee that every single component you use has been rigorously tested to make sure that it conforms and performs to the standards that we say it will. It's the result of manufacturing and testing procedures which mean that when you use Timeless Timber products nothing will let you down. It's this certainty that makes us confident that our products will give an outstanding performance no matter what you throw at them.

To give you even more assurance, we make sure that all of the boards we use are FSC Certified, while Timeless Timber accessories have been certified by PEFC and sourced from sustainably managed forests.

Summer in the city

“This year we’re having a city break... in our own city!”

Make the most of the summer

Spending summer in the city can be brilliant. It's chic, it's sophisticated, it's exciting, but remarkably it can also be relaxing! Imagine meeting up and spending time with your friends as well as relaxing with your family in your own oasis of calm created exclusively with Timeless Timber decking. Evenings can be spent in quiet contemplation, thinking over the day's events, planning for what tomorrow will bring, while you enjoy watching the sun set over the skyline. Or why not escape for the weekend to a little place where you can really let your hair down while you live it up just a little, and all in your own back garden, or even your roof garden.

Timeless Timber city decking is made to compliment your city life and the demands you make of it. A great accompaniment to city living, as well as looking the part, our stylish range of decking has been developed to ensure that it always performs no matter how you choose to unwind. A wax additive is added to the treatment of the deckboards increasing their longevity. So however you plan to enjoy your outdoor living space, your Timeless Timber decking will help you to get the most from your summer in real style.

Capture the high life

“Breakfast on the balcony
even beats breakfast in bed!”

Give life a lift

Who wouldn't want a brilliant taste of balcony living? Throw open the doors, stroll out and relax on your elegantly decked balcony area. Maybe you'll want to enjoy a drink, perhaps top up your tan, or even have breakfast while you watch the world go by. Sounds good doesn't it? Be the envy of your friends and neighbours alike with a superb raised deck that not only gives you a great area for relaxation and enjoyment, but also adds that certain something to your home. A balcony looks great from inside and out, extending your living space as well as your options.

The ideal solution to sloping gardens where a traditional patio or decking may be out of the question, Timeless Timber decking products are specifically designed and manufactured to look the part, while ensuring that your deck is as safe and secure as it is stylish. Adding value as well as attracting compliments to your property. So the balcony living you've only ever dreamed of could be well within your reach.

Quality wax treated deckboards

Deckboards

Our deckboards are cut to 32mm in depth, 120mm wide and are pressure treated with an additional wax treatment, Timeless Timber Pro-Wax. This water repellent slows down the rate of water absorption and evaporation, therefore ensuring the longevity of your deckboards.

Deckboards are available in 2.4m, 3.0m, 3.6m, 4.2m, and 4.8m lengths.

At first the decking sports an even, green hue. Then time and weathering do their work, transforming them to their natural shade of honey brown; a process that means no further treatment is needed at the installation stage. Of course, the final colour is up to you, Timeless Timber certified decking can be either painted or stained to match its surroundings.

Creating solid foundations

“I have enough things to worry about. So why leave this to chance?”

Safe and secure

Like so many other things, no matter how great things look on the surface, it's what goes on underneath that really matters. It's the joists and posts that support your decking that really hold the key to a successful project as they form the very foundation of your decking, if they don't perform as they should, then the life of your decking can be affected, it's as simple as that.

Timeless Timber joists and posts are high pressure preservative treated against rot and decay for in ground contact. Don't compromise the quality of your project. Make sure that you use Timeless Timber joists and posts and your decking will stand the test of time for as long as twenty years. After all, with decking this good you want to pick up the compliments for as long as you possibly can.
